

BigPoint - personal statistics for tennis players

For immediate release - rootsolutions releases Bigpoint

BigPoint for Apple Watch is for tennis players who want detailed statistics about their play in the same way data is presented on TV during pro matches. Just by tapping the watch after each point, BigPoint displays the score and calculates data which can be recalled during or after the match. From a detailed service profile, to winners and errors, to break point stats, BigPoint tracks about 30 parameters and keeps a log of your match history which can be viewed and filtered in a number of ways.

BigPoint is localized for English, French, and German and available as a free download from the AppStore ("freemium app"). More details at rootsolutions.de/products/bigpoint
